

On April 21, 2018 at 2:30 pm,
a memorial celebration will be held for the 73rd anniversary of the liberation of the former youth concentration camp for girls and young women
and later extermination site

*"- and the future needs remembrance –
for if there is a past, there is also remembrance.
But remembering also means forewarning,
making the invisible visible -..."*

Sieglinde Helmsdorf, 2014

April 21, 2018 at 2:30 pm

Please come join us to commemorate together at the site of the former Uckermark concentration camp.

Talks will be held by survivors from the Uckermark
concentration camp, as well as by Ibrahim Arslan (survivor of the racist arson attack in Mölln, 1992)
and others.

Translation in Polish and English (sign language requested)

There will be music by LEBENSLAUTE.

And a stage play called "Nicht Vergessen" (Never Forget) at around 4:30 pm, which deals with the history and culture of remembrance around the site itself.

Shuttles from the Visitor Center will take you directly to the location; the first one leaves at 1:45pm.

If any changes occur due to weather, we will post a sign at the Visitor Center and on the website www.gedenkort-kz-uckermark.de.